Pack your suitcase, girl,

Because you leave your mother.

Daughter, you have to fix the seam of your dress,

Don't try to find another husband.

Your maiden clothes must stay here,

Because you will stand on your own feet now.

Over the mountains to other farms,

To unknown parents (in law).

Come, mother, out of the house,

And beg the sun not to go down,

So that the day will be longer
