It's getting dark

I searched for you at the dawn. I found you at the afternoon - and I spoke to your heart I entered in the black fate.

Northern wind knocks
at my door and in my soul cold and in my bitter eyes little by little
it's getting dark

I searched for your eyes to walk in the light
to make sweet dream
to close old sorrows
